Dear [Redacted]

I sincerely appreciate your letter of March 28. These evaluations from our conference participants are very helpful to us in making plans for future activities of this kind.

Your observations that there was an overemphasis on current problems, and that you would have preferred a mixed bag of attendees are especially interesting to us.

I am very glad that in your opinion "such a Conference as this has a substantial impact on anyone's thinking and actions, both immediate and long term".

With kind regards,

Cordially,

James M. Mitchell
Director

P. S. I do appreciate, also, your high praise for Harry Seymour and his associates.
